

From: Eugene L. Willey
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 1:27am
Subject: Possible anti-trust violation

Dear Sirs: Risco Systems has deployed a nation wide Realtors system that only works with the Internet Explorer browsers and further I believe Microsoft is actively pursuing this strategy with other organizations.

To see this for yourself logon to:

<http://hastingsmls.risco.net/G3/Logon.asp?>

This practice would seem to me to violate your settlement. This site or any Risco controlled real estate board will not work with Netscape, Opera, or Mozilla. It is specifically designed to bar access by any other browser

If there really is any oversight of your decision this might be a place to start. How many sites out there prohibit access by all browsers except the Microsoft browser and why are such sites barring such access. Is Microsoft encouraging such behavior? They are very rich and very aggressive people. Please take a look at this for me and all consumers.

.....Gene