

From: richard@Goerwitz.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/7/01 8:29am
Subject: Slapping Microsoft on the wrist

Like many others, I'm naturally disappointed at the actions taken by the Justice Dept. over Microsoft's monopolistic behavior. The thing that really angers me is that they flaunted strictures you placed on them several years ago. The appearance now is that Microsoft is untouchable. They can fight the feds and win.

It would be much better for the economy if you could at least preserve the appearance that American businesses have to play by the rules.

--

Richard Goerwitz
tel: 401 438 8978

richard@Goerwitz.COM