Dear Sirs:

Just a quick comment on the Microsoft case-I am glad it is over. Considering the fact that the DOJ failed to provide any evidence that MS is a monopoly or restricted competition. All the case did was to further prove that any successful company can have its jealous competitors have the government do to it that they could not do in an open marketplace.

It is a good thing that the MS case will be settled at the federal level. I just hope that all of the state attorneys-general stop this extortion as well.

Sincerely,

Jeff Mills
