Subject: microsoft settlement

Having read The Revised Proposal Final Judgement, including the Competitive Impact Statement, it is in my opinion a thorough investigation of the Microsoft Corporation has been completed and it is now time to finalize the U.S. Government's involvement in this matter.

I do NOT believe that any further penalties are justified and that the U.S. Government should conclude it's case and let the Microsoft Corporation continue to offer to everyone all their products legally without any more prosecution since they have agreed to abide by the penalties and remedies imposed upon them and did them voluntarily and are abiding to th U.S. Government's wishes by law.

Finally I believe it is time to give Microsoft some praise for producing great products, products that are inovative and products that are well researched and promoted legally. Wishfully I would hope that more corporations would be at least as inovative as Microcoft thereby preventing the severe jealous feelings that I believe they have for Microsoft.

I believe that in a free business society that corporations should be free to inovate while breaking no laws.

Sincerely,
Robert W. Thacker
