

From: Tony Zahn
To: 'microsoft.atr(a)usdoj.gov'
Date: 1/23/02 9:03am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

The proposed settlement to the Microsoft case, while being aimed in the right direction, is too loose and will allow Microsoft to proceed without changing their actions very much at all. The company has proven time and again that they have no qualms with using every tactic available to them to put competitors out of business, thus furthering their monopoly and preventing the innovations that new companies would bring.