Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I am mailing you to cite my view that the settlement proposed for Microsoft is not enough. I have been informed and encouraged to send this because of the reasons laid out on this site <http://www.kegel.com/remedy/letter.html>

I feel that this settlement is worded very weakly, and that the punishments for disobeying the settlement have no force at all. If microsoft does not follow the rules in the first place, nothing will make me think they will start to follow them if the rules against them last longer. I feel it's like convincing a child to not do something by telling them not to do it. Then when they do it, they are just told not to do it again.

Please take the time to do this right. Look at the ideas put forth on the webpage I mentioned, and make a better judgement that will not potentially benefit microsoft.

thank you
