This is THE most obtrusive, ridiculous and annoying.. I do subscribe to AOL, but that is short lived I am sure.....I am a 72 year old widow, and have owned a pc for 3 years....prior to that I had never even sat in front of one... Clicked in to AOL, and I am still there....It is easier because I know it.....Well, guess what.....not for long. I have the ability (and did) download the XP from the ME, so I am not a real dummy. Our Mr. Gates is the why we are here from the beginning.....hats off to him... We owe him SO much. For God's sake.....how about a little credit where a lot is due. I cannot imagine that anyone has read, or will read this e-mail, BUT....again, thanks that things ARE finally beginning to "Open UP"....i.e.....ENRON/Anderson, etal. I truly hope that this is just the beginning.....Bill Gates/Microsoft....NO problem... (Yes, I am a shareholder - 50 shares!!!). Barbara Ann Wilcoxson
