

From: DHAVAL PARIKH
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/27/02 11:40pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

TO the Court

My opinion about the case of U.S. vs. Microsoft anti-trust is that the act of monopoly done by the Microsoft is a serious concern to the industry, users and the overall growth of the system. Today Microsoft is one of the largest industries producing almost all variety of applications and operating systems.

My Points against Microsoft

- The settlement will make only temporary difference, as it has no firm and fundamental action to solve the case.
- The harm is that it is preventing the new companies to rise by its uncompetitive price and product, a reaction of one company as a whole.
- Microsoft providing unnecessary software's (like Internet Explorer and other application programs) with its operation system has result in loss of many small web-based software companies trying to grow.
- Splitting of the company is the best option and in best interest of the people and new companies.
- Microsoft releases test version of its operating system for free or nominal cost and thereby capturing the market letting no other operating system to spread in market.
- Microsoft has a great name in the so defined .com Internet Company and now .NET, which is considered to be controlling the whole e-commerce. But it is not a wise act for one company to control nor is it possible to do so. It will result in overall disaster and prevail to Internet to flourish in all aspects.

By ending my viewpoint I request the court to consider all aspects in the betterment of people and industry and reinforce the facts for positive results in future.

sincerely

Join the world's largest e-mail service with MSN Hotmail.
<http://www.hotmail.com>