ISSUE: It is my understanding that the Dept. of Justice is asking for public comment concerning the negotiations over the Microsoft antitrust suit.

Microsoft has already agreed to hide its Internet Explorer icon from the desktop. I personally believe, this case against Microsoft is little more than "welfare" for Netscape and other Microsoft competitors, with not a nickel going to those supposedly harmed by Microsoft: the computer user. The Clinton/Reno Justice Dept. began this suit for some nebulous reasons of their own, I have never trusted their motives in the situation, and I for one, would cheer Bill Gates if he shut down his complete US holdings and moved to Singapore or somewhere else where the government would not be trying to destroy a successful business during a recession.

Please put a stop to this madness. The destruction to the economy already done is huge, and continuing this blunder will only exacerbate an already bad situation.

Thank you for considering my opinion.
