Case No. 1:96CV01285
(Judge Lamberth)

INTERIOR DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR LEAVE TO SUPPLEMENT THEIR MOTION AND SUPPLEMENT TO MOTION FOR A PROTECTIVE ORDER AS TO DISCOVERY BY THE SPECIAL MASTER-MONITOR AND AS TO THE RULE
ANNOUNCED BY THE SPECIAL MASTER-MONITOR CONCERNING DEPOSITION QUESTIONING

The Secretary of the Interior and the Assistant Secretary-Indian Affairs (the "Interior Defendants") hereby move for leave to file the following Supplement to their January 23, 2003 Motion For A Protective Order that (1) discovery by the Special Master-Monitor to the Interior Defendants not be had; and (2) the Special Master-Monitor not attempt to make dispositive substantive rulings at depositions and compel witnesses, under threat of potential disciplinary action against their counsel, to answer questions over the objections and instruction of their counsel. The reason Interior Defendants are requesting this Supplement is that, on January 24, 2003, the Special Master-Monitor served additional discovery requests on Interior Defendants ("January 24, 2003 Requests") (Exhibit 1). These additional requests provide further support for the merits of a protective order and fall within the relief requested by our January 23, 2003 motion. The Special Master-Monitor was previously served a copy of Interior Defendants'

Motion on January 23, 2003. Interior Defendants have notified the Special Master-Monitor that his requests are encompassed by the relief sought in our pending motion and therefore, it would not be appropriate for us to respond to his discovery requests pending the Court's ruling on our motion.¹ Exhibit 2.

For the reasons previously set forth in Interior Defendants' January 23, 2003 Motion For A Protective Order and accompanying Memorandum of Points and Authorities (which are incorporated by reference in their entirety), as well as the additional reasons cited herein, Interior Defendants request that the Court enter the proposed protective order attached to its January 23, 2003 Motion and grant such other and further relief to which the Interior Defendants may be entitled.

BACKGROUND

The Special Master-Monitor's January 24, 2003 Requests demonstrate that he continues to actively participate in discovery for Trial Phase 1.5. The January 24, 2003 Requests seek seven different categories of documents and one of those categories contains eight different subparts. Exhibit 1. The subject matter of the requests ranges from Judgment Accountings to the Interior Defendants' Historical Accounting Plan filed with the Court on January 6, 2003 ("Historical Accounting Plan"). In certain instances, the nature of the Special Master-Monitor's requests go beyond asking merely for categories of documents and instead, purport to require Interior Defendants to justify their decisions regarding various aspects of their Historical ¹ On January 31, 2003, Government counsel conferred by telephone with Plaintiffs' counsel Keith Harper, who indicated that Plaintiffs opposed this Supplement to Interior Defendants' Motion.

Accounting Plan. For example, he requests "any and all documents . . . regarding . . . the final decision" with respect to various aspects of the Historical Accounting Plan. Exhibit 1 at 3-4. In addition, the seven categories and subparts are broadly worded, requiring "any and all" documents. Id. at 2-4. Despite the broad nature of the requests, the Special Master-Monitor requests that Interior Defendants produce documents to him by February 7, 2003, only 10 business days following his requests. Id. at 4.

SUPPLEMENTAL ARGUMENT

I. A Protective Order is Warranted with Respect to the Special Master-Monitor's January 24, 2003 Discovery Requests

A. The Special Master-Monitor's January 24, 2003 Requests Further Demonstrate That He Has Become A De Facto Litigant In The Case

The January 24, 2003 Requests serve as further evidence that, rather than focusing on the oversight and monitoring roles set forth in the Appointment Order, the Special Master-Monitor has undertaken his own affirmative discovery campaign against Interior Defendants and has transformed his position from a judicial officer to a litigant. His January 24, 2003 Requests focus on the adequacy of the judgment accountings and the Historical Accounting Plan. Exhibit 1 at 2-4. These subject matters are outside the scope of both his monitoring authority and his authority to supervise discovery for Phase 1.5.

B. The Special Master-Monitor's January 24, 2003 Request Further Demonstrates That His Active Participation In Discovery Conflicts With His Oversight Responsibility

The Special Master Monitor's January 24, 2003 Requests do not appear to seek documents concerning the status of trust reform, but instead seeks documents concerning the adequacy of the judgment accountings and the Historical Accounting Plan ordered by the Court. The adequacy of the Historical Accounting Plan or any accountings is not a matter that has been referred to the Special Master-Monitor and an investigation to that end is therefore beyond the scope of his authority. The Historical Accounting Plan and accountings are matters to be addressed by the Court, about which the Court has authorized Plaintiffs to seek discovery. Cobell v. Norton, 226 F. Supp.2d 1, 163 (D.D.C. 2002). In seeking such discovery in advance of, and in addition to, Plaintiffs, the Special Master-Monitor is putting himself in a position where he would be required to oversee discovery disputes between the parties, while seeking his own parallel discovery concerning what is at issue in the litigation. An inherent conflict exists. To avoid such conflicts, the Court should allow discovery between the parties to proceed without simultaneous discovery from the Special Master-Monitor.

C. The Special Master-Monitor's January 24, 2003 Requests Unnecessarily Seek Discovery Already Propounded By Plaintiffs For Trial Phase 1.5

On December 16, 2002, Plaintiffs served their Eighth Request for Production of Documents ("Plaintiffs' RFP8"). Exhibit 3. The Special Master-Monitor's discovery requests are, in substantial respects, already covered by Plaintiffs' discovery requests, making the Special Master-Monitor's requests unnecessary, in addition to their impropriety as noted above. Both the Special Master-Monitor's requests and Plaintiffs' requests are broadly worded in that they ask for all documents pertaining to a particular subject matter. The subject matters in their respective requests overlap as follows: (1) the documents requested in the Special Master-Monitor's Requests Nos. 1 through 4 are already the subject of Plaintiffs' RFP8 Categories 155-165; (2) the documents requested in the Special Master Monitor's Request No. 6 are already the subject of Plaintiffs' RFP8 category 173; and (3) the documents requested by the Special Master Monitor's Request No. 7 are already the subject of Plaintiffs' RFP8 category 19. The extent to which the Special Master-Monitor's discovery requests duplicate Plaintiffs' RFP8 demonstrates the unduly burdensome nature of having the Special Master-Monitor also propound discovery. See Exhibit 1 at 4. A less burdensome and practical alternative would be for Interior Defendants to provide the Special Master-Monitor with copies of documents as they are produced to Plaintiffs in response to RFP8 and not pursuant to separate requests by the Special Master-Monitor.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the Court should grant Interior Defendants' Motion For Leave. In addition, the Court should grant the Interior Defendants' Motion for a Protective Order that discovery by the Special Master-Monitor not be had, and that substantive discovery disputes arising during depositions, including those relating to an instruction that a witness not answer a question, be submitted to the Court for resolution.

Re: Cobell et al. v. Norton et al.
Civil Action No. 1:96 CV 01285

Dear Ms. Spooner:

Re: Trust Reform Status –
Document Production I

As I have previously indicated, I will be increasing my review of the Interior Defendant's trust reform efforts to comply with the Court's September 17, 2003, Memorandum and Order which states in part:

"The Special Master-Monitor shall monitor the status of trust reform and the Interior defendants' efforts as they relate to the duties declared by the Court and prescribed in the 1994 Act." Id. at 3.

Pursuant to that Order, I will begin my review with a determination of the status of the historical accounting as most recently described by defendants in the Eleventh Quarterly Status Report, filed with the Court on November 1, 2002,¹ the July 2, 2002 "Report to Congress on the Historical Accounting of Individual Indian Money Accounts," and the "Historical Accounting Plan for Individual Indian Money Accounts" ("Historical Accounting Plan"), filed with the Court on January 6, 2003.

My review will encompass developments in the progress of the historical accounting project by the Office of Historical Trust Accounting ("OHTA"). In part, this review will enable me to update the status of that project since I last reported to the Court about it in the Fifth Report of the Court Monitor, filed on February 1, 2002.

In regard to this review, I have previously sought the production of documents from the Interior defendants about what is commonly referred to by defendants as the historical accounting of the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts. As of this date, you have not fully responded to my requests and remain in default of those requests by failing to produce the documents or certify that the defendants have no further documents responsive to those requests, as I have directed you do.² This document request does not abrogate your responsibility to fulfill defendants' obligations to comply with the September 17, 2002 Memorandum and Order of the Court by producing all relevant documents subject to my letter requests of December 22, 2002, January 2, 2003, January 8, 2003, January 15, 2003 and January 16, 2003.

I identify the following documents to be produced to me by close of business February 7, 2003. Please certify in your response that you have either produced all responsive documents, refuse to produce documents and the reasons why, and that you have caused reasonable inquiry to be made pursuant to Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and no other documents could be found than those produced. Also, should you assert a claim of attorney-client privilege, deliberative process privilege, or work product doctrine over any of the subject documents, please have the Department of Interior officials, responsible for review of the documents for assertion of these claims, provide certifications in writing supporting these claims where required by statute or case law.

1. Any and all documents and correspondence between OHTA managers and staff and the firms of Chavarria, Dunne & Lamey LLC and Grant Thornton LLP regarding the accountings performed and being performed to date on the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts as described in the January 6, 2003, Historical Accounting Plan at pages III-2 – III-4. These documents should include but not be limited to all transmittal letters of reports and draft reports, including copies of those reports, as well as those transmittal letters for CD&L's initial October 31, 2001 reconciliation report and June 7, 2002 update report, Grant Thornton's June 14, 2002 updated quality control review report ("QCR") and Grant Thornton's April 8, 2002 final report, produced by you and mentioned in Mr. Edwards' memorandum to Mr. Thomas Stonaker, dated July 16, 2002, also produced by you.
2. Any and all documents and correspondence between DOI and OHTA officials

² Your last letter response on January 17, 2003, to my letter requests, while claiming Attachments IV and V, documents subject to my requests, were protected by the attorney-client and deliberative process privileges and the work product doctrine, did not address my further requests for responsive documents nor did it certify there were no such documents within the Department of the Interior or elsewhere.

and the firms of Chavarria, Dunne & Lamey LLC and Grant Thornton LLP regarding the retention of their services and the terms of engagement for the reconciliation effort including formal contracts or letter agreements regarding the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts and the quality control review of that reconciliation, including any changes to those contracts and/or agreements including the scope of work to be performed by these firms.

3. Any and all documents and correspondence between DOI and OHTA officials and the firms of Chavarria, Dunne & Lamey LLC and Grant Thornton LLP regarding the status of the reconciliation of the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts and/or any documents and correspondence regarding issues concerning the completeness of the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts and the accuracy of the information contained in those accounts on which the reconciliation was or will be based.
4. Any and all documents and correspondence between OHTA managers and staff and any other Bureau or division of the Department of the Interior regarding issues concerning the completeness of the Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts and the accuracy of the information contained in those accounts on which the reconciliation was or will be based.
5. Any and all documents and correspondence between OHTA managers and staff and any DOI officials, contractors, or consultants regarding "final decisions" made by DOI officials concerning the limitations placed on the historical accounting including:
 - a) the final decision to reconcile only land-based IIM accounts greater than $5,000 as noted at page I-1 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
 - b) the final decision to limit the historical accounting to transaction-by-transaction accounting of only Judgment and Per Capita IIM Accounts as noted at page I-1 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
 - c) the final decision to limit the historical accounting to dates before 1938 as noted at page II-2 of the Historical Accounting Plan
 - d) the final decision to conduct a statistical sampling of some IIM accounts as noted at page II-3 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
 - e) the final decision not to conduct an historical accounting for closed accounts of deceased predecessors of current IIM account holders as noted a page II-3 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
 - f) the final decision to accept as "presumptively valid" the probates of deceased IIM account holders' land ownership as noted as

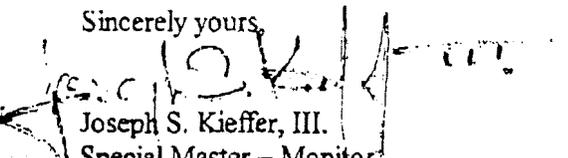

- page II-4 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
- g) the final decision to not account for funds generated from trust lands that were paid directly to the Indian owner of the land without the funds coming into Interior's possession as noted at page II-4 of the Historical Accounting Plan.
 - h) the final decision regarding the statement that "Interior has concluded that relying solely on the transaction-by-transaction accounting approach is not warranted, and is confident that sampling is an effective technique to verify the accuracy and completeness of the land-based IIM account transaction histories" made at page III-7 of the Historical Accounting Plan.

For purposes of this request, "final decision" means only that, not the interim advice or recommendations made to the decision-maker, but the final decision taken by that decision-maker following any deliberative process on which that decision was based.

- 6. A copy of the "Accounting Standards Manual that OHTA issued on July 2, 2002 and noted in the Eleventh Quarterly Status Report at page 59.
- 7. Any and all final submissions on file at the Department of the Interior for the Eleventh Quarterly Report's sections IV. A through F and V. A through E. For this request, the definition of "final submissions" is those final drafts of the subject sections submitted under the responsible official's signature whose signature is designated as "on file" at the conclusion of each of the sections in the Eleventh Quarterly Status Report.

To the extent any request is vague or ambiguous in your estimation, please contact me for further explanation rather than waiting until your February 7, 2003 response to raise that issue. Any request for an extension of time should be accompanied by the declaration of the responsible Interior official regarding why that request is required.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph S. Kieffer, III.

Re: Cobell v. Norton

Dear Mr. Kieffer:

This replies to your letter of January 24, 2003, requesting documents. On January 23, 2003, Interior Defendants filed and served a Motion for a Protective Order against, among other things, all pending and future discovery by the Special Master-Monitor. That motion encompasses your January 24, 2003 request. Therefore, it would be inappropriate for us to respond to your request while this matter is pending before the Court.

Very truly yours,

Sandra P. Spooner
