

TAX DIVISION
CRIMINAL ENFORCEMENT SECTIONS
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

P.O. Box 813, Ben Franklin Station
Washington, D.C. 20044
ATTN: Summer Intern Coordinator
Telephone: (202) 616-2774

The Tax Division's Criminal Enforcement Sections handle or supervise federal criminal tax and complex financial crime prosecutions throughout the nation. Many tax prosecutions involve defendants who have earned income from legal sources but who have attempted to evade taxes. Other cases involve tax violations related to other criminal activity, including corporate fraud, financial institution fraud, health care fraud, public corruption, organized crime and narcotics trafficking. Tax Division prosecutors pursue international crime, including the illegal use of offshore trusts and foreign bank accounts to hide income and assets in order to evade taxes. They also play an important role in the nationwide Organized Crime and Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) program and the war on terrorism.

Projected No. of Volunteers: 6

Internship Location(s): Washington, D.C.

Application Materials: If you are interested in these positions and have a solid academic record and excellent legal research and writing skills, please submit a resume, writing sample, and college and law school transcripts (official or unofficial) to the address indicated above.

Qualifications: First-year (second semester), second- and third-year law students. Law school graduates are not eligible for summer positions.

Application Deadline: March 3, 2006

Minimum Weeks Required: 6 weeks full-time

Salary: Volunteer (without compensation) or work-study credit only

Assignments: Legal interns work closely with federal prosecutors to research legal issues relevant to pending criminal investigations, prosecutions and appeals. Their work generally involves writing legal memoranda or briefs. Interns also help attorneys prepare for trials by arranging exhibits and organizing case files. Interns must be able to grasp issues quickly; conduct research thoroughly and accurately; and write clearly and concisely.
